

Tips to Help Protect Yourself from Credit Card Scams

Credit card scams continue to be a growing problem as criminals take advantage of the convenience and security of modern technology. As more people use credit cards for purchases online, the risk of becoming a victim of fraud dramatically increases. Here's what you need to know about credit card scams and how to protect yourself.

Intrada's Credit Card Safety Recommendations

1

Check Credit Card Statements

2

Only Use Trusted Websites

3

Only Share Credit Card Information with Trusted Sources

4

Avoid Public Wi-Fi Networks When Making Online Purchases

5

Do Not Click on Texts or Emails About Account Compromises

6

Setup Multi-Factor Authentication for Online Sites When Available

If you become a victim of credit card fraud or your card is lost or stolen, contact your credit card company immediately to report the crime or incident. They will work with you to investigate the case and help get any stolen funds returned to your account and issue a new card with a different number.
